Welcome to ANU College

Vice Chancellor’s Welcome

The Australian National University (ANU) is proud of its high standards of teaching excellence and its friendly and welcoming environment. Each year ANU welcomes a large number of international students from all over the world to study a diverse range of degrees offering an experience rich in academic and personal reward. The ANU College programs prepare students for the academic rigour of undergraduate study at the University and assist students to settle into campus life.

By choosing ANU College programs you are giving yourself a chance to join countless other students from all over the world in the prestigious programs on offer by ANU. ANU College programs offer you many opportunities and challenges that will help you to achieve your goals.

ANU is proud to endorse the pathway options offered by ANU College. Students who complete these programs have a history of academic success at the university, and we welcome you to share this opportunity.

Professor Ian Young AO
Vice-Chancellor
The Australian National University (ANU)

Head of College Welcome

ANU College offers something quite special; specialised programs of study that prepare you for success at one of the world’s leading higher education institutions.

The Australian National University (ANU) and ANU College (ANUC) work closely together to ensure that you develop the language ability, academic skills and specialised knowledge you require to excel at University. The students and staff at ANU College are highly motivated and high achieving. They provide an environment that challenges you and supports excellence. We’re very proud of the outcomes of our students and our excellent reputation.

Located on the ANU campus at the centre of Canberra, ANU College allows you to connect with peers and staff of many cultures in support of your effective transition to University life.

I look forward to welcoming you to our campus and to our quality programs.

Dr Monica Kennedy
Head of ANU College
ANU College
The Australian National University (ANU)

ANU was founded by the Australian Government in 1946 to apply the best minds to the biggest questions and advance Australia’s international standing. ANU has grown to become one of the world’s leading research-intensive centres of higher learning.

The University is consistently ranked in the top 50 universities in the world by a range of international measures, and 94% of research from ANU scholars is rated above world standard or well above world standard by the Australian Government’s Excellence in Research for Australia initiative. ANU scholars lead global thinking on issues of national and international significance, and students go on to become leaders in their home countries and on the world stage.

Life on campus

ANU has a beautiful landscaped campus offering all the convenience of a small town. Union Court is the hub of university life, with a selection of eateries, cafes, specialty shops and services. There is even a cycle repair shop (very important in Canberra). The Co-Op Bookshop is open every day of the week. Union Court is also home to campus events. Every Thursday is Market Day on campus, where you can buy everything from cheap books to funky clothes and enjoy the live music in the outdoor amphitheatre.

The ANU Sport and Recreation association run lunchtime sporting competitions, including indoor soccer, touch football, ultimate disc, volleyball and basketball. There are also a number of galleries on campus, including the School of Art Gallery and the Drill Hall Gallery. The campus is a great place to explore with many walking tracks, sports grounds and open space. Lake Burley Griffin is close by, and there are plenty of paths to take you there.

Life off campus

There are plenty of outstanding restaurants and cafes around campus and in the city. As the national capital, Canberra is home to some quality international galleries and museums, with new exhibitions opening throughout the year. Some institutions have special entry and membership deals for students. The cycling capital Canberra is a two-wheeled city with a superb and safe network of on- and off-road cycle paths. Around 40 per cent of Canberrans regularly ride to work, university or school and for general recreation.

Many students find that cycling is a cheap and environmentally friendly way of getting around the campus and the city. There are a number of student groups which organise group rides, both on- and off-road, include mountain-biking treks. There are also many locations on the ANU campus to leave your bike.
Subjects in the Foundation Studies program are fascinating and thought-provoking. They are designed to improve students’ critical thinking skills, which, I think, are most important for university studies. Canberra offers everyone who lives here a peaceful but exciting life, and there are lots of things to do with your friends in Canberra!"
Why study at ANU College?

ANU College (ANUC) is the English language and academic pathway provider for The Australian National University (ANU), Australia’s highest ranked university and among the world’s best.*

Canberra – Australia’s education capital

Canberra is the national capital of Australia. It is located in the Australian Capital Territory (ACT) and has a population of 380,000. Canberra has the highest income of any Australian capital city, the lowest unemployment rate and is close to the top on life expectancy. By all major statistics it comes out on top. But Canberra is more than great statistics. It’s filled with national museums, tourist attractions, historical sites and many natural wonders. Canberra offers a unique blend of modern city, pristine natural environment and high-quality education. Canberra provides students with a healthy and safe place to concentrate on their studies. And with Sydney a short 3 hour bus ride away you can still experience Australia’s most populous city for a weekend.

Getting to Canberra

Transport to Canberra from Sydney is available by air, rail or bus. The CountryLink train trip takes about 4.5 hours from Sydney Central Station. Bus travel to Canberra takes about three hours and is offered by Murrays Bus Service which picks up directly from the International and Domestic terminals at Sydney Airport. The service delivers passengers to the Jolimont Centre in Canberra city within a short walk from ANU.

CountryLink timetable information: countrylink.info/timetables/southern/canberra_to_sydney

Getting to the city

If you are arriving by plane you can take a taxi or bus to the city.

The Canberra Airport Express shuttle bus offers airport-city-airport services daily during peak periods (approximately 6am-7pm on weekdays and 7am-6pm on weekends). Tickets can be purchased from the car park customer service office located opposite the bus stop.

More information is available at royalecoach.com.au

Taxis are available from the taxi stand at the airport and a trip to the city will cost approximately AUS30.
Urban hub

Canberra is a relatively young planned capital city within the Australian Capital Territory (ACT). Offering a vibrant, cosmopolitan lifestyle, Canberra has a high concentration of national museums and galleries, as well as cafes and restaurants. The Canberra region is home to many boutique wineries producing award-winning cold climate wines. Canberra was designed by Chicago architects Walter Burley Griffin and Marion Mahony Griffin, and 2013 celebrated the city’s centenary. The centre of the design is the lake bearing Walter Burley Griffin’s name. Possibly the best way to see the inspiring design of the city is in a hot air balloon – a Canberra experience. Surrounded by nature reserves and with many parklands, the city has earned the moniker the ‘bush capital’.

Sports lovers

The community of Canberra enjoys both participating in and watching sport. Excellent public facilities in Canberra encourage an active lifestyle. There are many public sporting events taking advantage of Canberra’s pleasant climate. For those interested in skiing, Canberra’s close proximity to ski fields, such as the Snowy Mountains (approximately 2 hour drive from Canberra), makes weekend trips easy and convenient. For those interested in watching sport there are many world-class facilities including the Canberra Stadium, a facility primarily used for rugby league and rugby union games. Cricket and Australian Football League is played at the historic Manuka Oval. For something a little different, the Canberra Roller Derby league has a huge following in Canberra.

Public transport

Canberra has an excellent public bus system servicing all of the ACT and is provided by the ACT Internal Omnibus Network (ACTION). ANU College students have a choice of buses to take, including one that stops directly in front of the College. Information on routes and timetables is available from the ACTION bus website: action.act.gov.au

ANU College students are eligible for a student discount when taking public transport in Canberra.

Average maximum temperatures

Canberra has four distinct seasons and is well known for having outstanding autumnal colour, clear blue skies in winter, a kaleidoscope of flowers in spring and very warm dry summers. Average Temperature (Celsius):

- Summer: 27 degrees
- Autumn: 20 degrees
- Winter: 12 degrees
- Spring: 19 degrees

Where will I live?

Homestay Accommodation

For new students studying in Australia for the first time, homestay is recommended. A homestay experience offers a supportive family-style environment to assist students’ adaptation to life in Canberra and Australia. The minimum period of homestay is four weeks, and students are required to make payments in advance.

Australian Homestay Network (AHN)

ANU College contracts the Australian Homestay Network (AHN) to provide a safe, welcoming and quality accommodation option for students.

Canberra Greeting Service

ANU College can arrange for a student to be met upon arrival in Canberra, whether by train, bus or plane and taken to their pre-arranged accommodation.

For bookings: greeting@anucollege.edu.au

All AHN homestay families are trained to assist international students with:

★ Settling into their new community
★ Understanding the basics of Australian culture
★ Everyday conversational skills
★ Learning the basics such as buying transport tickets, where the local shops are, how to access banking, internet, mobile phone and personal safety tips
★ Frequently used English and ‘Aussie’ words and phrases

An AHN homestay student is provided with:

★ A supportive family environment and home to live in ★ A clean furnished room (this includes items like a bed, desk, wardrobe, chair and a study lamp)
★ Meals (optional) and accommodation (including utilities)
★ Ongoing homestay host and student support
★ AHN 24/7 professional phone support
★ AHN Contents Insurance for students and hosts as per AHN Insurance Policy homestaynetwork.org/public/ahn-insurance

All AHN homestay families associated with ANU College have been screened by AHN, and are required to undertake a thorough registration process. This includes training, police checks, personal interviews and home-inspections in order to provide a high level of service and comfort to the student.

To make a booking, please contact homestaynetwork.org
Students Under 18

Students under the age of 18 commencing study at ANU College are required to either reside with a Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP)-approved relative or to maintain accommodation and welfare arrangements approved by the College. The College requires students to reside with an ANU homestay family and must also employ the services of a professional caregiver (guardian). Professional caregiver services can be arranged through Professional Student Care (pscaustralia.com.au), or International Student Alliance (studentguardians.com).

Student visa holders currently enrolled in another institution in Australia are required to inform ANU College at least three weeks prior to the commencement of their program that they require the College to make the necessary welfare arrangements.

Where will I study?

Great Canberra Location
Being on the ANU campus, ANUC students have many opportunities to interact with Australian students and with international students from around the world. The university is host to a wide variety of nationalities and backgrounds, making the campus a melting pot of different cultures. ANU is an ideal location to study and to acquire a truly international perspective.

ANUC is located on the ANU campus, right in the heart of Canberra city. The newly refurbished ANUC building is only a 10-minute walk from the city centre of Canberra, providing students with easy access to many attractions, shopping centres and other services on offer. It is also easily accessible by public transport, with a bus stop at its front entrance.

Students enrolled in ANUC English or academic pathway programs are provided with excellent resources for their work, with helpful and experienced academic staff on hand to assist them in their studies. As well as the timetabled lessons, students have self-study periods, during which they coordinate their own learning and assignments.

Facilities and Services
Students choosing to study at ANUC can utilise facilities and services including:

- Purpose-built class rooms with ICT (information and communication technology) facilities over 2 levels
- SDL (Self-Directed Learning) with computerised language learning software.
- Wireless network
- Comfortable student common room with kitchen facilities
- Quiet study and ICT resource areas for students assistance from dedicated student support officers
- Academic and welfare assistance from dedicated student support officers

Events and Social Activities
ANUC offers students a number of interesting and enjoyable sightseeing, sporting and cultural activities. In addition, social events are organised throughout the year by ANUC. These events help students get to know their classmates and teachers, and also to meet Australian students studying at ANU.

* All ANUC students have access to the ANU libraries but not borrowing rights. The only group not able to access the ANU databases are EAP students.

“Students who are committed to hard work and determined to succeed make it very rewarding being a teacher here at ANUC. The collegiality amongst teaching staff provides a very good working environment. Canberra is an easy city to get around for international students and adjusting to life here I feel is much easier than in a bigger city like Melbourne or Sydney.”

Susila Selvarajah
ANU College teacher
Help and support

Orientation
The ANU College Orientation ensures all new students are given important information about their program and assists students in adjusting to their new academic environment.

Academic Support
ANU College incorporates supervised self-directed learning into all programs. This provides another opportunity for students to receive individual academic support and advice. Teachers are available to give guidance on study strategies and cross-cultural issues that may arise while studying in a foreign country. Advice is also available on matters such as balancing study and personal commitments.

Student Welfare Support
ANU College has a Student Support Officer who provides assistance and referrals for non-academic matters. Students with accommodation, personal, medical, or legal issues, or any issue of concern, are encouraged to see the Student Support Officer. The Student Support Officer also works closely with individuals or groups of students identified as having high needs, such as students under 18, to ensure their smooth adjustment to college life.

Access to ANU services and facilities
All ANU College students have access to many of the University’s services and facilities, such as:
★ Medical Centre
★ Counselling
★ Libraries
★ Careers Centre
★ Disability Services Centre
★ Academic Skills and Learning Centre

Health and Safety
Qualified First Aid Officers are always available to ANU College students during office hours.

ANU College and ANU believe it is important to encourage students to be aware of, and take responsibility for, their own safety and the safety of their fellow students. ANU has a dedicated team of students who volunteer their time for the UNISAFEGUARD Patrols. Students, who need assistance in getting to their destinations on campus, can telephone, and a UNISAFEGUARD Patrol officer can assist and escort the student to their destination on campus.

This free service complements the regular UniSafe Bus service offered by ANU. Please refer to facilities.anu.edu.au/services/anu-security/unisafe for further information.
The ANU College Foundation Studies program is an excellent pathway to ANU. The program has been designed to provide students with the academic preparation for their intended ANU degree. Upon successful completion of the Foundation Studies program, and subject to meeting the ANU entry requirements, entry to the student’s chosen undergraduate degree program is guaranteed.

There are two programs on offer: Foundation Studies Standard (2 semesters) and Foundation Studies Extended (3 semesters)

Foundation Studies Standard

The ANU College Foundation Studies Standard program comprises of nine courses: Academic English, Advanced Academic English, Computer Applications and six academic content courses. Students are assigned to an academic stream according to their indicated future ANU Degree. This ensures all necessary prerequisites and assumed knowledge courses are completed before articulation to the University.

Computer Applications runs once each week, for two hours. English courses run four times each week, to total eight hours while all academic courses run twice a week to total four hours. It is recommended that at least the equivalent amount of time is allocated for class preparation, homework, assignments and self study for every course students are enrolled in.

Students must pass all Semester One courses (i.e. achieve a minimum 50% in all courses) to be eligible to progress to Semester Two.

Foundation Studies Extended

The ANU College Foundation Studies Extended program comprises the following courses in the first semester, all of which are compulsory: Foundation English, History of Maths, Communication Studies and History Makers. Foundation English runs four times each week, to total ten hours. The other courses run twice a week to total four hours each. It is recommended that at least the equivalent amount of time is allocated for class preparation, homework, assignments and self study for every course students are enrolled in.

A minimum grade of 60% in each course is required to continue into the Semester Two. The second and third semesters of the program follow the same streamed structure and progress rules as the Foundation Studies Standard program.

Academic Streams

- Arts and Social Sciences/ Asia and the Pacific
- Business and Economics
- Engineering and Computer Science
- Law
- Sciences

The ANU College Foundation Studies Standard/Extended meets the requirements for Foundation Programs which have been registered on CRICOS for delivery in Australia to overseas students providing an academic preparation for seeking entry to first year undergraduate study or its equivalent.

Assessment

Foundation Studies students are required to attempt both continuous assessment and end-of-semester final examinations. Students must pass final examinations in order to pass each course. Students taking ANU undergraduate courses must complete the University assessment.

The assessment tasks used in Foundation Studies courses encourage the development of a range of skills. Assessment tasks may include listening and reading comprehension exercises, essays and reports, oral presentations and group discussions, research projects, mathematical and scientific calculations and laboratory work. There is a strong focus on critical thinking, problem-solving and analysis.

How are entry scores to ANU calculated?

Successful completion of ANU College Foundation Studies occurs when a student passes all enrolled courses. Entry to ANU occurs when a student successfully completes the program, achieves a minimum grade of 65% in Advanced Academic English and meets the grade point average set by ANU for entry to each degree program.

For students planning to enter degree programs in the College of Law or College of Business & Economics, entry scores will be calculated based on the combined grade average of all six degree pathway-related academic courses.

For students planning to enter degree programs delivered by all other Colleges (Physical and Mathematical Sciences, Arts & Social Studies, Engineering & Computer Science, Asia and the Pacific), entry scores will be calculated based on the combined grade average of their top five academic courses.

Computer Applications and Academic English course grades are not included in this calculation; however, passing these courses is a requirement for successful completion of Foundation Studies. Foundation Studies Extended Semester One courses are also not included in the ANU entry grade calculation.

Scholarships

ANU College of Business and Economics International Merit Scholarship. Each year the ANU College of Business and Economics may award up to two half-tuition (50% for one semester) fee sponsorships to eligible ANU College Foundation Studies students. Students must accept an offer of degree study in the ANU College of Business and Economics to be eligible. The Scholarship is highly competitive and is awarded to students based on their overall academic performance in the ANU College Foundation Studies program.

"ANU College is the best pathway to get enrolled in ANU and helps students to build up a strong base of higher studies. I am highly satisfied with the well-organized course structure and excellent study environment at ANU College. ANU College will push you to give your best and to find your potential. It will improve your skills which will help you to progress into higher education. However, if you find it difficult to keep pace with the new study structure at ANU College, you will always be able to find a helping hand."

Course descriptions

Foundation Studies (Standard)

Accounting
This is an introductory course that builds a student's understanding of the purposes of Accounting, what an Accounting system is, what major financial reports look like and how accounting information is used in business decisions. This subject has been designed to incorporate the latest advances in the Australian curriculum, including the use of technology and group work. It takes theoretical concepts and applies them to real world scenarios, and encourages students to develop their language skills in a business context. This course is appropriate both for students new to Accounting and those who have studied Accounting before.

Algebra
This course provides a detailed study and application of equations and inequalities, graphs of functions, linear functions, quadratic functions, polynomial functions, rational functions, inverse functions and composite functions, exponential and logarithmic functions, trigonometry functions, basics of systems of linear equations, sequences and series, mathematical induction and binomial theorem. Students are prepared for the study of Calculus and Statistics upon successful completion of this course.

Australian Studies
This course is intended to help international students to gain an understanding of some of the people, ideas and events that have shaped Australian society. As a survey course, Australian Studies provides a chronological study of the ways in which this continent has been settled, beginning with the arrival of the first Australians from Africa, between 50,000 and 70,000 years ago. This historical journey requires students to explore a range of socio-cultural, political, economic and environmental issues, with the underlying aim of reinforcing the learners' English language skills through wide-ranging listening, speaking, reading and writing activities. Students are expected to contribute regularly to class discussions on current affairs topics that arise during the course.

Calculus
This course presents Calculus in a concise and meaningful way so that students can understand the full picture of the mathematical concepts and their connections to real-world problems and challenges. Students are expected to work on L'Hopital's Rule, continuity, differential calculus and integral calculus and receive an introduction to numerical analysis. All techniques are illustrated with mainstream applications in pure, applied and social sciences.

Chemistry
This subject will provide the student with the basic principles of Chemistry, comparable to the Year 12 curriculum in the Australian Capital Territory. The course covers Classification of matter, Units and error management, Nomenclature of inorganic molecules, Simple reactions in solution including the mole concept, Simple atomic structure, Kinetic theory of gases and gas laws, Understanding the periodic properties of the elements, Chemical equilibria, Simple chemical bonding theories, Molecular structure, intermolecular forces, and Introduction to organic chemistry. There is an emphasis on problems involving calculations in this course and all students must own and be familiar with a scientific calculator.

Computer Applications
This subject is designed to provide students with the computer applications skills required for academic success in both their current studies and future university pathways. Core modules include Word Processing, Spreadsheet and Presentation Skills using MS Office. Additional modules are chosen to support students’ concurrent or future academic assignments in Foundation Studies, and may include Website Design, Databases, Algorithmic Problem Solving or other relevant topics. A strong multidisciplinary approach is employed in which students apply the skills they gain in Computer Applications to the completion of assessment tasks in other subjects. Structured design principles are stressed throughout. Particular emphasis is given to online research and the effective use of academic referencing tools.

Critical Thinking and Reasoning
This course aims to develop the thinking skills necessary for successful analysis and evaluation of arguments through instruction in patterns of reasoning, informal logic, and analysis of texts. The course discusses: (a) the nature of descriptive and prescriptive propositions; (b) the structure of arguments including argument mapping and identification of missing premises; (c) the need for clarification of arguments; (d) procedures for establishing credibility of propositions; (e) the nature of inference and how to assess inference strength; (f) deductive and inductive reasoning including scientific reasoning. CTR also addresses a selection of fallacies, including appeal to authority, appeal to ignorance and confirmation bias. By the end of this course, students should be able to analyse and evaluate weak and sound arguments, identify common faults in reasoning and suggest counter arguments.

Economics
This subject is for Foundation Studies students intending to study an undergraduate course at the ANU College of Business and Economics. Students learn how economic theory can be applied to current events and issues, such as climate change and the global financial crisis, and how to present an argument making use of economic reasoning and statistical evidence. This course provides a solid grounding in microeconomics (covering concepts such as supply and demand, elasticity, markets, firms and competition) and an introduction to macroeconomics (concepts including economic growth, inflation, unemployment and international trade).

Key Moments in Western Civilisation
This course is designed to help international students to gain an understanding of some of the people, ideas and events that have shaped world history. The course provides a chronological study of the origins and nature of some salient aspects of Western Civilization including; Ideas and beliefs from the ancient world of Socrates and Plato to twentieth century America and Martin Luther King. The course will study aspects of the Roman Empire, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, The Victorians, Special topic-WW - The Gallup campaign and the American civil rights movement. Students will explore a range of socio-cultural, political, economic and moral issues, with the underlying aim of developing their study skills to research and analyze historical debate as well as their English language skills through wide-ranging listening, speaking, reading and writing activities.

Legal studies
This subject is designed to prepare Foundation Studies students for first year undergraduate study, particularly in humanities or law-related disciplines. Students will learn how to construct a legal argument, resolve legal issues, conduct legal research, and express a point of view. Topics include an overview of the following: access to justice, legal systems around the world, criminal law, international law, environmental law, and technology and the law. The main focus of this course is on skills and language development.
Linguistics
The purpose of this course is to demonstrate diverse aspects of language by using various areas of study, such as phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics and pragmatics. All areas covered during this course will involve practical demonstrations derived from world languages, including some examples from English. Activities are linked to skills previously taught in Academic English, and concurrently in Advanced Academic English, and will have a heavy reliance on critical thinking. The course is aimed at students enrolled in either ANU Express or second semester Foundation Standard programs and requires a sophisticated command of the English language from those wishing to enrol.

Politics
This subject provides a general introduction to politics as one key aspect of social organisation. Students are introduced to various definitions of politics and governance and are expected to investigate and analyse the evolution of political systems around the world. This course makes reference to various political theories and academic approaches to the subject of politics. There is a strong focus on current political developments.

Statistics
Algebra is a pre-requisite for this subject. Students are introduced to the terminology and processes of first year university statistics courses. Topics include graphing distributions of qualitative and quantitative variables, describing distributions numerically, working with density curves and normal distributions, and sampling and experiment design. Students are also introduced to probability, including randomness, basic probability models such as histograms and probability tables, Venn diagrams and binomial and Poisson Probabilities as well as basic counting theory.

Twentieth Century History
This course examines major global events, the causes and effects of World War I and World War II, the decline of empires and the end of colonialism. Specific areas of study can include the economic impact of the Great Depression and the changing status of women around the world. This course may also examine some of the economic and environmental issues that pose challenges for governments and international organisations. Students will explore a range of socio-cultural, political, economic and moral issues, with the underlying aim of developing their study skills to research and analyse historical debate as well as to refine their English language skills through wide-ranging listening, speaking, reading and writing activities.

Foundation Studies (Extended)

Communication Studies
Communication Studies introduces students to some of the theories, forms and functions of communication. The subject focuses on such concepts as verbal and nonverbal communication, ideas of the self, intercultural communication, film and media and the impact of the IT revolution. Students will take part in oral presentations and do an exercise analysing a film.

Foundation English
The Foundation English course is designed to equip international students with the skills and knowledge needed to progress effectively to Academic English and Advanced Academic English which are offered in the second and third semester of the Foundation Studies Extended Program. This subject is designed to provide opportunities for students to improve their grammar at the sentence and paragraph level. Students will also prepare summaries and basic essays. They will develop their reading, listening, speaking and note-taking skills through a variety of sources.

History Makers
The History Makers history course is designed to help international students gain an understanding of some of the people, ideas and events that have shaped world history. The course is designed to equip international students with the skills and knowledge needed to progress effectively to Foundation Studies History offered in the second and third semester of the Foundation Studies Extended Program. Guided by the National Standards for Foundation Programs, students will acquire listening, reading, writing, discussion and presentation skills. The overarching theme of the Foundation Studies Extended History course is ‘Human Rights’. This course provides a chronological study of the people and ideas that have influenced Western civilisations, including ideas and documents from individuals such as Plato, Petrarch, Rousseau, Thomas Jefferson and Martin Luther King.

History of Mathematics
The History of Mathematics course assists students to become confident users of the language of Mathematics and mathematical concepts. This subject is designed to provide an historical context in which to gain an understanding of influential and interesting mathematicians and the legacy of their work. The course enables students to receive instruction from guest speakers as well as to learn the necessary skills of group work in a tutorial setting. Students have the opportunity to become independent learners and to develop their English language skills through wide-ranging listening, speaking, reading and writing activities.
Pathway to ANU

The ANU Express program is offered by ANU, and taught at ANU College. The program is a one semester (17 weeks) pathway into ANU. The courses on offer within the ANU Express program have been specially designed to provide students with the appropriate academic preparation for their intended ANU degree program.

More information about the ANU Express program can be found at: programsandcourses.anu.edu.au/2014/program/1003XEXPRS

Entry to ANU

Successful completion of the ANU Express program occurs when a student passes all enrolled courses. Entry to ANU occurs when a student successfully completes the program and meets the grade point average set by ANU for entry to each degree program. This average is calculated from the four academic course grade totals (6 units each). Please refer to the ANU Entry Requirements table on Page 25.

Canberra has the best of both the city and the country. In other big cities you wouldn’t find farmland so close to a CBD. Canberra’s scenic lakes and beautiful bushland compensate for its lack of beaches, not to mention having Parliament House and the Embassies. I feel honoured that I could study at ANU, and I feel privileged to live in one of the most leisurely cities in the world.”

English for Academic Purposes

Pathway to ANU College Foundation Studies and ANU

Students at Intermediate level and above may be considered for English for Academic Purposes (EAP) which prepares students for direct entry to the ANU College Foundation Studies program and to The Australian National University.

Each 10 week period of study in EAP is designed to prepare students for further study at ANU College and the ANU. Preparation will include:

★ Reading academic material;
★ Understanding lectures;
★ Expressing understanding of ideas through speaking and writing;
★ Thinking critically about ideas heard and read.

Students must achieve a score of 60% to successfully complete each level of EAP. No additional IELTS is required to progress to the ANUC Foundation Studies program.

Entry Requirements

★ Students must be at least 16 years old upon course commencement*;
★ Students must have a minimum IELTS Band Score of 4.5 (Minimum 4.0 in each band). Further details on the English Language Entry Requirements can be found at: anucollege.edu.au/entry-requirements

What really stood out during my study at ANUC was the outstanding quality of its teachers and the methodology used during the learning process. This methodology allowed me to quickly progress in my academic English skills through participative classes and diverse assessment forms. At the same time, I received the support and feedback from teachers, which was essential to achieve my goals.

Upon receiving a Letter of Offer and an Acceptance Form, an applicant will be asked to accept the following terms and conditions.

I (which expression includes the parent/guardian who has signed this acceptance) hereby accept an offer made to me by Study Group Australia Pty Limited, a company incorporated in New South Wales Australia (ACN 010919327) whose registered office is Level 8, 97-99 Bathurst Street, Sydney, NSW 2000, Australia (contact: +61 2 8263 1888), trading as ANU College (and hereinafter referred to as ANUC) to enrol in the ANU College Foundation Studies Standard/Extended and/or the English course(s) or other course(s) (hereinafter referred to as “the course”) as intimated as referred to in the Letter of Offer (“the offer”).

I agree to pay to ANUC the tuition fees and other charges applicable for my course in accordance with the payment terms.

I further agree to pay all additional fees and such other charges as may become payable to ANUC during the period of my enrolment. ANUC agrees to provide tuition to me in all subjects of the course, conditional upon my working regularly and systematically through those subjects in accordance with instructions and provided all fees owing are paid on the due dates.

The ESOS framework

The Australian Government wants overseas students in Australia to have a safe, enjoyable and rewarding place to study. Australia’s laws promote quality education and consumer protection for overseas students. These laws are known as the ESOS Framework and they include the Education Services for Overseas Students (ESOS) Act 2000 and the National Code for more information about your rights under the ESOS Framework, please refer to internationaleducation.gov.au/regulatory-information/pages/regulatoryinformation.aspx. If a student has any concerns about any of these matters after arrival at ANUC, please contact the Campus Director. Please note that information is collected by ANUC during each student’s enrolment in order to meet its obligations under the ESOS Framework. This is to ensure students’ compliance with the conditions of their visas and their obligations under Australian immigration laws generally. The authority to collect this information is contained in the ESOS Framework.

Information collected about each student during enrolment can be provided, in certain circumstances, to the Australian Government and designated authorities and, if relevant, the Tuition Protection Service (TPS). In other instances information collected during enrolment can be disclosed without the student’s consent where authorised or required. Full details of the Privacy Policy can be found at: anucollege.edu.au.

I acknowledge that:

1. It is a condition of enrolment that I attend all scheduled classes except where there is a legitimate reason for non-attendance (eg illness supported by a Doctor’s Certificate) which is acceptable to ANUC. If the enrolment terminates due to a breach of this condition, I understand and agree that I am not entitled to any refund of the tuition fee or other charges paid.

2. All lessons and any related material supplied by ANUC are copyright and remains the property of ANUC. Any unauthorised copying may constitute a breach of the Copyright Act 1968 (as amended).

3. I am required to use my best endeavours to meet the requirements of the course and to abide by the rules and regulations of ANUC for the running of ANUC and the conduct of students. If I breach any of the rules of ANUC, fail to pay an amount payable for the course, or breach of visa conditions, including poor attendance or unsatisfactory progress, my enrolment may be cancelled and I agree that I will not be entitled to any refund of the tuition fee or other charges paid.

4. Infringement of campus rules and regulations will result in a fine under local campus rules and regulations.

5. I may be required to attend organised ANUC excursions and activities as part of my course.

6. I authorise ANUC to obtain medical treatment for me should such action be deemed necessary by ANUC or a staff member acting on behalf of ANUC. I agree to indemnify ANUC for any expense, loss, damage or liability of whatsoever nature occasioned as a result of authorising and arranging such emergency medical treatment.

7. I am responsible for my own books, equipment and personal items and I hereby release ANUC from all liability and claims for loss or damage to such items, howsoever caused.

8. I am required to carry ANUC identification at all times while on campus.

9. I must notify ANUC of my Australian residential address and contact details within 7 days of arrival or within 7 days if I change my address or contact details.

10. I have read and understood the “Complaints and Appeals Policy” outlined in this document.

11. I have read, understood and agreed to the terms of the “Cancellation and Refund Policy” outlined in this document.

12. I have read and understood this document. I confirm that the terms and conditions of the offer have been explained to me.

13. I have been informed about, or provided information on the following:

a. the entry requirements for admission into the course, including level of English language required and academic qualifications required;

b. course duration and content, including information about training and assessment methods;

c. the facilities, classroom equipment and learning resources;

d. the grounds on which the enrolment may be deferred, suspended or cancelled, and accept any conditions set out in the Letter of Offer;

14. If I am accompanied by any school-aged dependents, I will be required to pay their full fees if they are enrolled in either a government or non-government school.

15. I acknowledge that I have reviewed the cost of living expenses and the estimated total cost for tuition fees and other charges and acknowledge I have, or will have, the financial capacity to complete my course of study.

16. This agreement, and the availability of complaints and appeals processes, does not remove the right of the student to take action under Australia’s consumer protection laws.

Cancellation and refund policy

1. ANUC agrees to refund within 28 days, tuition and non-tuition fees paid where the student produces acceptable certified evidence that the application made for a student visa was rejected by a visa-issuing authority.

   a. If a visa application is rejected before the student commences the course:

      The amount of the refund is the fees paid by or on behalf of the student, minus the lesser of the following amounts that will be retained:

      ★ 5% of the amount of fees received (pre-paid tuition fees, non-tuition fees);

      ★ $500.

   b. If a visa application is rejected after the student has commenced the course:

      The amount of the refund is any unspent pre-paid tuition fees paid by or on behalf of the student. The non-tuition fees will not be refunded.

2. ANUC agrees to refund within 28 days of the receipt of written notice of cancellation by the student, all tuition fees paid by or on behalf of the student, less the amounts to be retained as agreed and as detailed below:

   a. If written notice is received more than four weeks before the commencement date of the student’s course, AUD$2,500.

   b. If written notice is received in the four weeks prior to the commencement date of the student’s course, 50% of the tuition fees for the course.

   c. No refund of tuition fees will be paid to the student if written cancellation is received on or after the commencement date of the student’s course.

   d. Enrolment fees are non-refundable.

I hereby release ANUC from all liability and claims for loss or damage to other tuition to me in all subjects of the course, conditional upon my working regularly and systematically through those subjects in accordance with instructions and provided all fees owing are paid on the due dates.
3. In the unlikely event that ANUC is unable to deliver a course in full, the student will be offered a refund of the unused portion of prepaid tuition fees. The refund will be paid to the student within fourteen days of the day on which the course ceased being provided. Alternatively, the student may be offered enrolment in a suitable alternative course at no extra cost. The student has the right to choose whether they would prefer a refund of the unused portion of prepaid tuition fees, or to accept a place in another course. If the student chooses placement in another course, they will be asked to sign a document to indicate acceptance of the placement. If ANUC is unable to provide a refund or place the student in an alternative course, the Tuition Protection Service (TPS) will assist the student to find a suitable alternative course at no extra cost or, as the last resort, refund any unspent tuition fees.

4. If the student withdraws from a course before commencing any study, and ANUC has paid an amount to a representative in relation to their recruitment, the refund will be further reduced by that amount. The representative will be responsible for refunding that amount to the student.

Claiming a refund

Applications for a refund should be in writing and addressed to the International Admissions Centre (if you are in your home country) or the Campus Director (if you are in Australia) according to the contact details listed on your letter of offer.

Package programs

Students can apply for a package of programs, the Foundation Program (Standard) or Foundation Program (Extended) plus Bachelor degree at The Australian National University (ANU). Students with permanent residency cannot receive an ANU offer as they are required to apply to ANU through UAC at the end of their Foundation year. The procedures for students who do not take up their place at the University after being offered a package of programs are as follows:

- If the student wishes to change provider, or withdraw altogether from the package of study, he/she must apply to do so through ANUC and the University’s International Centre (before the completion of the ANU College Foundation Studies Standard/Extended) or the University’s International Centre (after the completion of the ANU College Foundation Studies Standard/Extended).

- All applications for refund must be made in writing to the Director, International Admissions Centre. The application will be assessed and the student will be advised of the decision and of any refund of fees that is approved.

Publicity

The student (and, where applicable, his or her parent or guardian):

i. agrees that the student's photographs, videos, artwork or other works, as well as recorded or written testimonials and details of the student's achievements (“Student Images and Testimonials”) may be used by Study Group, or by a third party agent of Study Group, worldwide for promotional purposes including in its printed and online marketing materials and on any social media network without further consent or notification; and

ii. gives consent to Study Group storing, or transferring across international borders, copies of the Student Images and Testimonials for such purposes.

Payments

Payment can be made to ANUC using a number of payment options via the PayOnline platform. Access to this platform can be found at http://pay.anucollege.edu.au using the unique student access code. Certain payment options will carry a processing fee of 2.5%. ANUC reserves the right to alter this charge from time to time.

If the student chooses to pay in their local currency, a foreign exchange rate will apply. The applicable exchange rate can be viewed online as at the time and date of the payment.

Bank charges and commission for both the sending and receiving banks should be paid by the sender of funds or they will be applied to the student’s account.

Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC)

As a condition of the student visa, all international students must hold valid OSHC for the length of the visa. If students have not been invoiced for this, they must organize this cover by themselves. Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) refund policy

- If the student has not arrived in Australia, ANUC will refund the OSHC directly. If the student has arrived in Australia and is:
  - Discontinuing studies and returning home
  - Transferring to another provider, or
  - No longer on a student visa.

The OSHC provider will organise the refund. Refunds are processed on a pro-rata monthly basis. Refund forms are available on the OSHC website.

Dispute Resolution

In the event of a dispute between an individual student and ANUC, internal procedures are in place to facilitate the resolution of the dispute. An overseas student may lodge an external appeal or make an external complaint about a decision by contacting the Overseas Students Ombudsman. The Overseas Students Ombudsman offers a free and independent service for overseas students who have a complaint or want to lodge an external appeal about a decision made by their private education or training provider. See the Overseas Students Ombudsman website osd.gov.au or phone 1300 362 072 for more information.

A summary of the Complaints and Appeals process is as follows:

1. Code of Conduct, Attendance and Discipline

Each student is expected to abide by the terms and conditions of enrolment and the published rules and code of conduct of ANUC. Disciplinary procedures will be applied in the event of a breach of these rules. All staff are expected to apply ANUC policy and rules fairly and without favour, but if a student considers that this has not occurred, the student may refer the matter to the Grievance Counsellor. If the student is dissatisfied with the Grievance Counsellor’s decision, he/she may lodge a formal appeal. The appeal will be considered by the case review panel, which includes the Campus Director. All decisions will be in writing and occur within specified time periods.

2. Service and Academic Programs

In the event of a student complaint concerning the quality of the service or teaching provided by ANUC, the student will report the matter to a person in a position of authority at ANUC. The complaint may either be dealt with by that person, or referred to the Grievance Counsellor if the Complaints and Appeals process is followed.

3. Contractual and Financial Issues

Any queries relating to tuition fees and other charges payable to ANUC (or refunds) will initially be dealt with by ANUC Finance and Administration staff. If the student is dissatisfied with the decision, the matter will be referred to the Campus Director for determination. If either the action taken or the outcome does not satisfy the student, he/she may refer the matter to the Ombudsman, who will in turn convey a decision in writing to the student.

Study Group Australia Pty Limited reserves the right to amend these terms and conditions from time to time and without prior notice.
